CHAPTER CONTENTS

1. Defining Adolescents:
   - Who Are They?
   - 2

2. The Study of Adolescence:
   - Theory and Research
   - 32

3. The Biological and Physical Changes of Adolescence:
   - Puberty, Health, and Well-Being
   - 64

4. The Cognitive Changes of Adolescence
   - 100

5. Defining the Self:
   - Identity and Intimacy
   - 138

6. Adolescents in the Family:
   - Changing Roles and Relationships
   - 176

7. Adolescents and Their Friends
   - 204

8. Adolescents in the Schools
   - 236

9. Leisure, Work, and College
   - 274

10. Sexuality
    - 314

11. Facing the Future:
    - Values in Transition
    - 350

12. The Problems of Youth
    - 378

13. Positive Development in Adolescence:
    - Meeting the Challenges and Making It Work
    - 414

© Sinauer Associates, Inc. This material cannot be copied, reproduced, manufactured or disseminated in any form without express written permission from the publisher.
Contents

I  Defining Adolescents: Who Are They?  2

Four Themes of This Text  4
Chapter Overview  4
Who Are Adolescents?  5
  Defining Adolescence  6
Perspectives on Adolescence  9
  A Constructive Perspective  9
  BOX 1.1 An Experiment: “Who You Pushin’, Buddy!” Perceptions of Aggressiveness 10
  A Contextual Perspective  12
The Many Faces of Adolescents  13
  Sex and Gender  13
  Culture, Ethnicity, and Race  15

Early Adolescence, Late Adolescence, and Emerging Adulthood  16
  BOX 1.2 Socializing African American Children  17
Who Am I? A Question of Identity  19

A Historical Look at Adolescence  21
  A Time Before Childhood?  21
  The Creation of Adolescence  21
  Emerging Adulthood  23

Adolescents in a Changing Society  23
  Poverty  24

Adolescents Within the Life Span  26

II  The Study of Adolescence: Theory and Research  32

Chapter Overview  34
Models and Theories  34
  The Environmental Model  35
  The Organismic Model  35

Environmental Theories  38
  B. F. Skinner  38
  Albert Bandura  39

Organismic Theories  40
  Jean Piaget  40
  Robert Kegan  40
  Sigmund Freud  41
  Erik Erikson  42

BOX 2.1 Erikson’s Psychohistorical Approach: A Clinician’s Notebook from the Dakota Prairies 44
  Nancy Chodorow  45
  Carol Gilligan  46

BOX 2.2 Self-Description of Two Adolescents  47

BOX 2.3 Choosing between Responsibility to Self and Responsibility to Others  48

A Scientific Approach to the Study of Adolescence  50
  Research Strategies  50
  Research Issues  58
The Biological and Physical Changes of Adolescence: Puberty, Health, and Well-Being

Chapter Overview

The Neuroendocrine System
- Prepuberty: Adrenarche
- Puberty: Gonadarche

The Physical Changes of Puberty
- Recollections of an Adolescent Girl
- Recollections of an Adolescent Boy
- The Growth Spurt
- The Reproductive System
- Menarche
- Spermatogenesis
- The Secular Trend

The Psychological and Social Implications of Puberty
- Heightened Emotionality
- Relationships with Parents

The Timing of Change:

- Early and Late Maturers
- Early and Late Maturing Boys
- Early and Late Maturing Girls
- Body Image and Self-Esteem

Health and Well-Being

- Nutrition
- Sleep
- Physical Activity
- Overweight
- Health Care

BOX 3.1 The Edible Schoolyard

BOX 3.2 Randomized Versus Quasi-Experimental Designs: What's in a Name? Communication across the Ages

The Cognitive Changes of Adolescence

Chapter Overview

Development of the Brain in Adolescence
- Cell Proliferation, Synaptic Pruning, and Myelination
- The Prefrontal Cortex: Thinking Like an Executive
- The Limbic System: Risk Taking

How Adolescents Think
- Thinking Abstractly
- Thinking Hypothetically

BOX 4.1 Science Project

BOX 4.2 Generative Interviews:

BOX 4.3 Cross-Sectional and Sequential Designs: Does Intelligence Slip with Age?

A Psychometric Approach to Intelligence

A Constructive Perspective

A Contextual Perspective

Implications for the Classroom
- Reasoning
- Can Adolescents Think Like Scientists?
- Study Skills and Knowing What You Don’t Know
- Metaphors and Meaning: When Is a Ship a State?

Implications for Everyday Life
- Adolescent Egocentrism
- Social Cognition: Understanding Others
- Doubt and Skepticism
- New Emotions
- Arguing
5 Defining the Self: Identity and Intimacy 138

Chapter Overview 140

Constructing a Self 140

Achieving Autonomy 141

BOX 5.1 Parents’ Reflections About Adolescence 143

The Role of Parents 143

Connectedness with Parents 145

BOX 5.2 Communication Patterns that Foster Individuation 146

Identity as a Normative Crisis of Adolescence 148

Identity Statuses 150

Identity Styles 153

Adolescents and the Internet 153

BOX 5.3 Operationalizing Concepts: What Kind of Decision Maker Are You? 154

Identity: Gender and Ethnicity 156

Gender Differences in Identity Formation 156

Contributions of Ethnicity to Identity Development 157

Understanding the Self: Cultural Contributions 160

Self-Concept: Who Am I? 161

Self Esteem: Do I Like Myself? 162

BOX 5.4 The Joys of Parenting Early Adolescents 163

Intimacy: Discovering the Self through Relationships 165

Knowing Oneself 165

BOX 5.5 Intimacy 166

Intimacy with Others 167

Intimacy and Identity: Different Paths to Maturity? 167

Developmental Issues in Adolescence 169

Dimensions of Relatedness 170

Gender Differences in Relatedness 171

A New Definition of Maturity 173

6 Adolescents in the Family: Changing Roles and Relationships 176

Chapter Overview 178

Changing Relationships within the Family: Adolescents 178

Time Spent with Family 178

Warmth of Family Interactions 179

BOX 6.1 Sampling: How Emotional Are Adolescents? 180

Increased Conflict with Parents 180

Emotional Climate of Families 186

Changing Relationships within the Family: Parents and Parenting 187

Styles of Parenting 187

Cultural Contexts of Parenting 189

BOX 6.2 What Parents Wish They Had Known About Adolescence 190

Knowing What Your Kids Are Doing 190

Whose Identity Crisis? Parents and Middle Age 191

Families in Context 192

Ethnic Minority Membership 192

Siblings 194

Dual-Earner Families 195

Families in Transition 196

Divorce 196

Single-Parent Families 198

Remarriage and Blended Families 200
7 Adolescents and Their Friends  204

Chapter Overview  206
The Importance of Friendships  206
   Group Identity  207
   Gossip and Self-Disclosure  207
   Friends and Self-Esteem  210
   Parents and Self-Esteem  211
   BOX 7.1 Talking About Unpleasant Experiences Can Be Helpful  212
Friendship Patterns  212
   Age Differences in Friendship Patterns  213
   Gender and Friendships  215
   Adolescents and the Internet  215
   Social Competence  216
   Social Status: Who's In and Who's Not  217
Interethnic Friendships  218
   Friendships and Sexual-Minority Youth  221
The Peer Group  221
   Cliques and Crowds  221
   BOX 7.2 Longitudinal Design: Friendship Patterns  224
   Crushes and Dating  224
A Youth Culture  226
   School  227
   Conformity and Peer Pressure  227
   Values  229
   Peers and Parents: When Values Conflict  230
   Youth Organizations  231

© Sinauer Associates, Inc. This material cannot be copied, reproduced, manufactured or disseminated in any form without express written permission from the publisher.
9 Leisure, Work, and College

Chapter Overview
276

How Adolescents Spend Their Time
276
- Leisure Time 277
- Adolescents and the Media 280
- Global Comparisons: Child Labor 284

Adolescents at Work
285
- Attitudes Toward Work over the Lifespan 285
- Part-Time Employment 285
- Dropping Out and Employment 289
  - BOX 9.1 Correlational Research: Hangin’ out on a Friday Night 290

Theories of Vocational Development
290
- Social-Cognitive Theory 290
- Ginzburg: Vocational Stages 292
- Super: Careers and the Self-Concept 294
- Holland: Personality Types and Work 295

Joining the Workforce
296
- Job Availability 296
- Gender in the Workforce 298
- Minorities in the Workforce 299

Intervention Programs: Strategies for Change
300
- Counselors as Change Agents 300
- Irrational Beliefs and Maladaptive Myths 301
  - BOX 9.2 Myths That Interfere with Adaptive Career Decision Making 302

Adolescents and College
303
- New Solutions to Old Problems: Dialectical Thinking 304
- How College Can Change the Way Adolescents Think 305
- Gender Differences in Approaches to Knowledge 307

10 Sexuality

Chapter Overview
316

Sexual Identity
316
- Gender Stereotypes: The Meaning of Masculine and Feminine 316
  - BOX 10.1 Between-Subjects Design: Date Rape 317
- Gender Roles in Context 319
- Constructing a Sexual Identity 320
- Sexual Scripts 322

Making Sexual Decisions
322
- Talking with Parents 323
- Sexual Attitudes and Behaviors 324
- Protective Factors 325
- The Sexual Response Cycle 326
  - BOX 10.2 Descriptions of the Experience of Orgasm 327
- Sexual Functioning: Myths and Misconceptions 327

Sexual Orientation
329
- Homosexuality: Gay, Lesbian, and Bisexual Adolescents 330
- Prejudice and Discrimination 330
- Biological and Psychosocial Bases of Sexual Attraction 331

Sexual Health: Risks and Responsibilities
332
- Contraception 332
- Sexually Transmitted Diseases 334
- Risks and Precautions 339
- Teenage Pregnancy 340
- Teenage Parenting 343
- Adolescents and Abortion 344

Sex Education: What Adolescents Need to Know
344
- The Effectiveness of School Programs 344
- Comprehensive Sex Education Programs 345
- Abstinence-Only Programs 346